Education Our Education Program provided environmental education opportunities to a variety of students in the vicinity of San Bruno Mountain on a variety of relevant themes. We launched an education program focused on the San Bruno Mountain Dunes, engaging schools on the western side of San Bruno Mountain with classroom presentations, guided field trips and service-learning restoration events. Schools participating in this program included Susan B. Anthony Elementary, Skyline College, the Hilldale School and Westborough Middle School. We also collaborated with Lipman Middle School to create educational opportunities for students that involved exploring different themes related to native plants while students practiced the scientific method. For example we guided students in the implementation of experiments that tested the effects of various types of soil textures on the growth of different San Bruno Mountain native plant species. Field trips and restoration events on the mountain were provided as well to other schools including Compass High School, Panorama Elementary School, Green Hills Elementary School and Hillsborough High School. We also provided presentations at other schools and places of learning including Notre Dame de Namur University, San Francisco State University and the San Francisco Public	30a
